Third Sunday after Pentecost

Preparing for worship

This Sunday, we have the joy of welcoming two remarkable guests: Jeff Lee, CBF field personnel in North Macedonia, and Yusuph Emmanuel from Twelve21 in Tanzania. As I have reflected on my recent journey to visit the Lees in Macedonia, it's not just the stories of beautiful ancient monasteries or delicious Balkan meals that I tell, but the stories of transforming partnership and the deep, relational work the Lees exhibit.

Before our trip, my idea of missions was shaped by my past mission experiences that were often rooted in religious conversion and white-saviorism, so I was actually pretty hesitant going. But in Macedonia, I encountered something different. I saw faith lived out not as a numbers campaign, but as a gentle, healing presence. The Lees' ministry, and the work of partners like Yusuph, is about healing, hospitality and walking alongside others in their journeys. It's about weaving threads of community across differences, offering hope in quiet, practical ways — the Jesus way.

Barbara Brown Taylor writes in An Altar in the World, "The hardest spiritual work in the world is to love the neighbor as the self — to encounter another human being not as someone you can use, change, fix, help, save, enroll, convince or control, but simply as someone who can spring you from the prison of yourself, if you will allow it."

In Macedonia, I witnessed this kind of love. At Poraka, a center for adults with developmental disabilities, we played, crafted and shared meals — no agenda, just presence. At a food bank, we packed boxes for families in need. At Ratoe, a recovery center, I saw how dignity is restored through work and community. And because of the Lees' work, these ministries are not isolated but interconnected, each supporting the other, creating a community of collaboration and hope.

Our world is in dire need of Christians who feel called to be healers, not colonizers. This is why we as a church in the United States look for ways to support global missions. Not because we want to make people become more like us, but so we can learn from others and join in the work across cultures in what it means to become more like the kin-dom of God.

As we welcome Jeff and Yusuph today, I invite you to come with open hearts and curious minds.

Let's pray together for our global partners and for ourselves — that we might have the courage to listen deeply, to build bridges across difference, and to embody the healing and hope of Christ in our own neighborhoods and beyond.

+Call to Worship

Cameron Wilson

One: Come and let us worship God with hope in our hearts!

All: We come with hope, because God is good!

One: Even when days are hard or the world feels big —

All: God gives us courage and peace.

One: God's love is like the sunrise — it always comes.

All: God's promises help us hold on to hope.
Thanks be to God, who gives us hope every day!

+Response in Song

O God, Our Help in Ages Past

ST. ANNE

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while life shall last, and our eternal home.

+All congregants are invited to stand in body or spirit.
Hearing devices are available in the Narthex and South Atrium.

I cry aloud to God,
aloud to God, that God may hear me.
In the day of my trouble I seek the Lord;
in the night my hand is stretched out without wearying;
my soul refuses to be comforted.

I will call to mind the deeds of the LORD;
I will remember your wonders of old.
I will meditate on all your work
and muse on your mighty deeds.
Your way, O God, is holy.
What god is so great as our God?
You are the God who works wonders;
you have displayed your might among the peoples.
With your strong arm you redeemed your people,
the descendants of Jacob and Joseph.

When the waters saw you, O God,
when the waters saw you, they were afraid;
the very deep trembled.
The clouds poured out water;
the skies thundered;
your arrows flashed on every side.
The crash of your thunder was in the whirlwind;
your lightnings lit up the world;
the earth trembled and shook.
Your way was through the sea,
your path through the mighty waters,
yet your footprints were unseen.
You led your people like a flock
by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Gabriel Grovlez

For freedom Christ has set us free. Stand firm, therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery. ... For you were called to freedom, brothers and sisters, only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for self-indulgence, but through love become enslaved to one another. For the whole law is summed up in a single commandment, “You shall love your neighbor as yourself.” If, however, you bite and devour one another, take care that you are not consumed by one another. Live by the Spirit, I say, and do not gratify the desires of the flesh. For what the flesh desires is opposed to the Spirit, and what the Spirit desires is opposed to the flesh, for these are opposed to each other, to prevent you from doing what you want. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not subject to the law. Now the works of the flesh are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity, debauchery, idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousy, anger, quarrels, dissensions, factions, envy, drunkenness, carousing, and things like these. I am warning you, as I warned you before: those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God. By contrast, the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. There is no law against such things. And those who belong to Christ have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also be guided by the Spirit.

For the Word of God in Scripture,
For the Word of God among us,
And for the Word of God within us,
Thanks be to God!

Summer Drop-In Choir

Victor Johnson

Be still and know that he is God.
He will comfort you, keep and strengthen you,
Be still and know that he is God.

In your time of tribulation, he will be your strength.
In your moments of loneliness, he will bring you peace.
He will bring you peace.

Be still and know that he is God.
He will comfort you, keep and strengthen you,
Be still and know that he is God.

Be still.

Silence

We pause in silence to reflect and to be attentive to the Spirit of God.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our sins,
As we forgive those who sin against us;
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil,
For thine is the kingdom, and the power,
and the glory forever. Amen.

ADVOCACY UPDATE

What's in the One Big Beautiful Bill?

WHILE WE WERE PLANNING our summer activities, the “One Big Beautiful Bill Act” (OBBBA) — an approximately 1,000-page “tax” bill which virtually no person in Congress has had the time to read — had already passed the U.S. House of Representatives (by one vote) and is under consideration in the Senate. This is truly a “house on fire” moment. The president wants it on his desk to sign into law prior to the July 4 holiday.

Why does this matter to us?

There is almost no aspect of society that will be untouched by this bill: weakening of existing federal gun laws, immigration, LGBTQ matters — you name it and it will be touched, mostly in ways that will harm people. Rarely have tax packages hurt low-income Americans so directly nor has legislation that guts the safety net simultaneously handed gains to the wealthy. Below are just a few highlights.

The OBBBA establishes a national school voucher program to be administered by third-party “scholarship granting organizations” (SGOs) certified by the U.S. Treasury and IRS — this, when the majority of the population opposes vouchers. It further establishes a dollar-for-dollar tax credit, not to be confused with a tax deduction, that comes with some limits — thereby landing a blow to traditional nonprofits and making fundraising even harder.

The brutal effects

Think cuts to Medicaid, the ACA (Affordable Care Act), SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program) and CHIP (Children’s Health Insurance Plan) don’t matter much to Texans? Consider the following:

Medicaid pays the delivery cost of 48% of babies born in our state, provides medical care for 36% of Texas children and reimburses nursing facilities for the care of 61% of seniors receiving that care. That’s but a part of what it pays for.

SNAP helps provide food for 3.2 million Texans — 10.2% of our population. The OBBBA also offloads much of the SNAP cost to states for the first time, which will cost Texas approximately $1.2 billion annually.

The ACA currently provides insurance for about 4 million Texans. An estimated 1.7 million of those will likely lose coverage, and those who keep it will likely see a sharp increase in premium costs.

CHIP provides health insurance to over 1.1 million Texas children whose parents cannot qualify for Medicaid. Together, Medicaid and CHIP provide health coverage to over 50% of Texas children.

Not only do all of these plans face financial cuts, but the OBBBA also creates a thicket of new red tape and roadblocks for current and future enrollees. Eligibility requirements will be greatly complicated, and heaven forbid that you’re a refugee or DACA participant; those folks will mostly be frozen out of all the safety nets.

What you can do

Call your U.S. legislators this week.

There is still time to make a difference. If you don’t want fellow Texans irreparably harmed by this bill, call, write or email your two U.S. Senators. Since the bill will go back to the House to iron out differences, contact your House representative too.

Someone to talk with.

If you are facing a life challenge and would like to have a spiritual friend to walk alongside you for a season of healing, perhaps you would benefit from a Stephen Minister.

Stephen Ministry pairs trained lay people with individuals in need of Christian companionship during times of life crisis. Wilshire has trained Stephen Ministers available.

To learn more about receiving confidential care from a Stephen Minister, please reach out using our dedicated email address, stephenministry@wilshirebc.org, or call 214-452-3176.

Audrey Pottkotter

Hometown: Dallas

College: Oklahoma City University

Major: Musical Theater and Vocal Performance

What are your aspirations for the future?

Following graduation, I plan to move to New York City to pursue a career performing in musical theatre.

What are your favorite hobbies?

I enjoy trying new restaurants and am always looking forward to my next concert!

Where is your favorite place to travel?

For a fast-paced vacation, New York City, but I also love the mountains or the beach where I can relax!

What brought you to Wilshire and when?

My family moved to Lake Highlands in 2018, and the following year, Lucy Kate Murray invited me to Wilshire Student Ministry's Spring Retreat. From the moment I arrived, I felt loved and welcomed and quickly became part of the youth group. I encouraged my family to visit the church, and from the moment I attended with my family, we all agreed this would be our church home. We began attending regularly and officially joined Wilshire that spring.

Where are you engaged in Wilshire?

This summer, I'm returning as the music ministry intern for the second year. In high school, I actively participated in Wilshire Student Ministry, Youth Choir and Shekinah, which shaped my faith journey. I always look forward to reconnecting with my Wilshire community — it truly feels like home.

What has surprised you most about Wilshire?

I'm constantly inspired by the congregation's deep loyalty and commitment to Wilshire. It has been a supportive and strong community to grow up in, and every time I'm at church, I'm reminded of just how many people are in my corner. The love and encouragement I've received here have shaped my faith and my life in meaningful ways. I'm also amazed at the number of professional musicians, former music directors, and composers who attend our church. It has been wonderful to share my joy of music with a congregation that so deeply appreciates it.

What do you think God is up to in your life right now?

I've spent the past year serving as a choral scholar at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Oklahoma City. Having a church home in Oklahoma City reminded me how much I gain from being part of a faith community. I've found comfort in the familiar rhythms of worship and music, and I've been grateful for the new relationships that have formed there. Whether it's through singing in a choir, sharing in worship or simply being present with others, I continue to see how God works through people to provide encouragement, growth, and a sense of belonging wherever I go.
